Note

The Honourable Robert Hamilton (1826-1891) was a factor of the Hudson's Bay Company who was stationed at Fort Edmonton. He married Ann (Annie) Seaborn (Seabourne) Miles (born in 1838 at Rupert's House d. 1863). Annie's mother was Elizabeth (Betsy) Sinclair (b. ca. 1805 and d. 1878) and her father was Robert Seaborn Miles Sr. (1795-1870). Like Robert Hamilton, Robert Miles Sr. was a Chief Factor of the Hudson's Bay Company. One of Robert and Annie's sons, Robert Miles Hamilton (1864-1939), married Alice May Barker and resided at "Auburn" in Peterborough, Ontario. Alice's father was the Honourable Samuel Barker, a Conservative Member of Parliament and a barrister. Alice and Robert Hamilton's children were Miles Beresford Hamilton, Robert Barker Hamilton, Alice Seabourne Hamilton, and S.R. Hamilton (male). Both Beresford and Robert Barker Hamilton served overseas during World War I. Alice Seabourne Hamilton married Charles Norman Geale.

Edward Armour Peck, whose papers are also included in this fonds, was the natural father of Arthur Henry Peck and the adoptive father of Charles Norman Geale. Edward Armour Peck was married to Kitty Revel. Richard Birdsall Rogers was born at Ashburnham in 1857. He was the son of Robert David Rogers and Elizabeth Birdsall and a grandson of Richard Birdsall. He lived in Ashburnham until 1916 and then moved to "Beechwood Farm" in Douro Township. He was a land surveyor and was appointed Superintending Engineer of the Trent Valley Canal in about 1884. During his time in this office, he built the Peterborough-Lakefield Division and the Simcoe-Balsam Lake Division of the Trent Canal including the Hydraulic Lift Locks at Peterborough and Kirkfield, besides many dams and other works on this canal. Richard married Clara Mina Calcutt of Peterborough in 1881. They had seven children. Their daughter, Leah, married Herbert Geale, the brother of Charles Norman. Two of Richard and Mina's sons, Heber and Harry, served overseas in World War I.

Custodial history

This fonds was previously in the custody of members of the Geale and Rogers families before it was donated to the Trent University Archives.

Scope and content

This fonds consists of the personal and business records of the Geale, Hamilton, Peck, Barker and Rogers families. There are letters relating to World War I written by Beresford and Robert Hamilton and Heber and Harry Rogers; letters, diaries, journals of Richard Birdsall Rogers (superintending engineer of the Peterborough Lift Lock); the records of Hon. Robert Hamilton, a factor at the Hudson's Bay Company stationed at Fort Edmonton. The fonds also contains stereographs, approximately 1000 photographs, and a C.E. Goad fire insurance plan for the city of Peterborough, 1882. Items of interest include a group of photographs of the Trent Valley area and the building of the canal; Rogers family pictures of the Stoney Lake area and the Juniper Island Regatta; photos of early aircraft and the Curtiss Aviation School; photos of hydraulic lift lock at Peterborough; and one letter from Catharine Parr Traill to Robert Miles Hamilton. This collection of family papers, correspondence, journals, photographs, newspaper clippings and published works spans the years 1834 to 1966 and measures approximately 3 1/2 linear metres. The papers were deposited in Trent University Archives through the courtesy of members of the Geale and Rogers families in 1983.

The papers are divided into two series:

Series A, the Geale family papers, consists of records pertaining to the descendants of the Hon. Robert Hamilton, a factor of the Hudson's Bay Company stationed at Fort Edmonton in northern Manitoba. Robert Hamilton married Annie Seabourne. One of their sons was Robert Miles Hamilton (1864-1939). He married Alice May Barker and resided at "Auburn" in Peterborough, Ontario. Their children were Miles Beresford Hamilton, Robert Barker Hamilton, (Alice) Seabourne Hamilton, and S.R. Hamilton (son). Alice Seabourne Hamilton married Charles Norman Geale. Papers of the Barker family (the Hon. Samuel Barker was Mrs. Robert Miles Hamilton's father) are included in this series as are the papers of the Peck family. Edward Armour Peck was the natural son of Arthur Henry Peck and the adoptive father of Charles Norman Geale. He married Kitty Revell. Both Miles Beresford Hamilton and Robert Barker Hamilton served overseas in the First World War and their correspondence is included in this series.

Series B of this collection consists of the Rogers Papers. Richard Birdsall Rogers was born at Ashburnham in 1857. He lived there until 1916 and then moved to "Beechwood Farm" in Douro Township. He was a land surveyor and was appointed superintendent engineer of the Trent Valley Canal in 1884. Richard married Clara Mina Calcutt of Peterborough in 1881. They had seven children. One daughter, Leah, married Herbert Geale, brother of Charles Norman Geale. Two sons, Heber and Harry served overseas in World War I. Their correspondence is included. R.B. Rogers designed and supervised the building of the hydraulic lift locks at Peterborough and Kirkfield. These papers included several files of plans and specifications for the locks, correspondence and documents accrued during the scandal preceding Rogers' resignation in 1906, the Holgate Report which condemned Rogers and the Keefer investigation which completely vindicated his work as Chief Engineer. We have created a major on-line exhibit focusing on the life and times of Richard Rogers and the Peterborough Lift Lock: <http://digitalcollections.trentu.ca/exhibits/birdsall-rogers/zrptboll.htm>

##SERIES B: Rogers family papers

Richard Birdsall Rogers (1857-1927) was the son of Robert D. Rogers and Elizabeth Birdsall. He was educated at Trinity College School in Port Hope, Ontario between 1870 and 1874 and then went to McGill University from 1874 to 1878. He worked first as a Provincial Land surveyor (1879) and then as a Dominion Land Surveyor (1880). Richard married Mina Calcutt, daughter of Ashburnham brewer Henry Calcutt, in 1881. They had 6 children: George, Edna, Harry, Lillian, Leah and Heber. One other child died in infancy. In 1884, he was appointed Superintending Engineer of the Trent Canal.

1900: School report from Trinity College School [Rogers' son - possibly George]

1901: Correspondents include Blair (Minister of Railways and Canals), Collingwood Schreiber (Deputy Minister & Chief Engineer), and Sir Richard Cartwright. Clement Gordon and Richard Rogers were writing to insist that all their hiring had been done appropriately and "in the interests of the Liberal party." Rogers had to write to the department whenever he wanted to hire anyone. the department would then send him names of Liberal supporters that he could hire. Also includes documents pertaining to a law suit launched against R.B. Rogers by Corry and Laverdure.

1902: Correspondents include R.A. Davy, Schreiber, R. Weddell, Walter Francis (asking that his salary be increased to $2500), Ryerson Ritchie, W.T.C. Boyd, and many others. Some letters thanking Rogers for the photos of a deer-hunting party. Rogers is working on an article with accompanying photographs for the Canadian Engineer. Also interested in any drawing of the "immense hydraulic lift lock at Peterborough and costing $800,000..." is the Syren and Shipping (Illustrated). Letter from Mossom Boyd telling Rogers he is sending him a roast of half-bred buffalo to try. Includes some expense and estimate sheets for work on the Trent Canal to date. Includes 3 notices that G.N. Rogers has won prizes in General Proficiency, English Lit. and Mathematics at Trinity College School.

1903: Note from R. Weddell of Trenton saying Rogers' photographs have arrived and that they are the best ever taken of the locks there. Several letters regarding patronage appointments, lantern slides, etc. Correspondents include W.T.C. Boyd, Ryerson Ritchie, R.Z. Rogers, A. Onderdonk, Willis Chipman (Secretary of the Engineers' Club of Toronto where Rogers is scheduled to give an illustrated lecture), Patti Rogers, J.R. Stratton, R. Hall, J. Kilbourn (Lakefield Portland Cement Co.), Charles Keefer, C. Gould (McGill University Library expressing appreciation for Rogers' maps of the Trent Canal which he has placed in the Library. Also asks Rogers if "your friend, Mr. Boyd" might be interested in giving money for the library. Letter January 9, 1903 from Rogers' son Harry apologising for misbehaviour and promising to apply himself to his studies: "I know I have not been everything I should, but, Papa, it is not because I have not tried..." Letters of Introduction for Rogers as he prepares to leave for the United States to look at canal machinery. Includes letters re lantern slides, photographs and articles by Rogers; correspondence about houseboat rental parties; letters re patronage hiring; letter re Rogers selling his cottage property in Chemong Park; business correspondence re canal estimates and construction specifics. Letter Oct. 7 from W.T.C. Boyd saying he was happy "that our efforts to make the trip pleasant for Sir Sandford [Fleming] proved successful...". School of Practical Science Toronto visited the Peterborough canal works.

1904: Correspondents include W.T.C. Boyd, J.R. Stratton, D. Gilmour (President of Trent Water Com. Assn. and associated with Gilmour and Co. Lumber Manufacturers and Dealers), Collingwood Schreiber, Harry Wickham (writing from Montreal to Willie Boyd), John Lang, M.P. Includes quotes from suppliers such as Wm. Hamilton Manufacturing Co.; printed invitations from R.B. Rogers and Mina for guests to join them on their house-boat "Lotus" at the Peterborough Lift Lock on opening day July 9, 1904; letters re patronage appointments from Schreiber and Lang; copy of a speech made by Guss Porter (M.P. West Hastings) in the House of Commons. Also includes a letter expressing thanks for heroism of Rogers and his son in rescuing a Miss Bickell of Lakefield from a boating or swimming accident. Letter from Harry Rogers, Jan. 10, to "Papa" apologising for poor exam results and general lack of ambition.

1905: Short description of the Hydraulic Lock at Peterborough dated January 14, 1905; summary of costs associated with the Hydraulic Lock at Kirkfield; complaint issued by a Mr. O'Toole regarding rental of steam derrick and steam drill; cartoon sketch entitled "The Road to Kirkfield;" letter of support for Rogers from George Cox to Hon. H.R. Emmerson, Minister of Railways and Canals; draft of a letter of thanks from Rogers to Cox saying that his letter has had the desired effect and Rogers' salary has been increased. By November 1905 there were complaints to the effect that there had been charges of gross negligence in the construction work on the Hydraulic Lock at Peterborough and Kirkfield written up in the newspapers. Rogers asked for an investigation and the Department authorized Henry Holgate to investigate. The Order in Council appointing Holgate is included in this folder. Yearbook of the Stoney Lake Cottager's Association 1905.

1906: Documents relating to the Holgate Commission and Rogers' reply re same; Rogers' letter of resignation. Correspondents include J. Kilbourne, Sam Hughes, W.T.C. Boyd, William Dennon, Cecil B. Smith, Edna Rogers, Edwin Rogers, Northumberland Paper & Electric Company of Campbellford, Collingwood Schrieber. Correspondence indicates that Rogers is having some financial difficulties and is trying to get other contracts and is also trying to borrow money to start new business enterprises. Rough notes that Rogers put together for his official reply to the Holgate Report; copies of the final reply; petition supporting Rogers from the Peterborough Conservative Association (James Kendry, President).

1907: Correspondents include many individuals and companies demanding that Rogers pay them for services and materials. These include William Hamilton Manufacturing Company, and Hicks and Company lumber dealers. Rogers was cancelling subscriptions to journals and other publications; Rogers shares in Northumberland Paper & Electric Company transferred to his brother, Edwin. Other correspondence relates to renting of Rogers' houseboat for the season, his role as a judge in the Gzowski [engineering] Medal competition. Rogers was apparently suffering from sciatica this year. Correspondents include William Dennon, R.F. McWilliams, F. Kerr, W.T.C. Boyd, George Burnham, Edwin Rogers, Ryerson Ritchie, R. Weddell, Harry Wickham, J. Kilbourne. On November 15th, Willie Boyd wrote to Rogers saying "I was very sorry to hear of the tenders you were interested in, being so unsuccessful & that you are still without remunerative employment..."

1908: Rogers is updating his slide show, which consists of slides and a talk, called "Waterways of Canada," and organized through McGill University. Rogers and his partner, William Dennon, have finally been successful in securing a contract for Section No. 2, Trenton-Frankford, of the Trent Canal. The contract was not confirmed for some months and Dennon and Rogers were left in a state of anxiety. Correspondents include W.T.C. Boyd, Ryerson Ritchie, Walter Francis, A.A. Mulholland, Edwin Rogers, Sam Hughes, R.R. Hall, M.P., E.S. Clarry, R.Z. Rogers. C. Gould of McGill University library agitating for Rogers to send him some replacement slides and lecture; Willie Boyd writing to Rogers telling him that he has sold the "Empress" and is trying to sell the "Manita." Rogers is being dunned by many creditors.

1909: On January 28th, Dennon wrote to Rogers saying: "I have been thinking over your financial situation and think the best and only way that I can see for you to do is for you to see your creditors and say to them that the prospects for you to materially reduce your indebtedness the coming season are very good but in order to do so the process of hounding you must cease..." Business correspondence between Dennon and Rogers (partners) indicates difficulty getting payment for the contract from the government in a timely fashion.

1910: One invoice only.

1911: Small file of letters. Correspondents include H.C. Rogers and Sam Hughes.

1912: Bill to incorporate the Kawartha Transportation Company. Letter from Mr. Pousette refers to the death of Edna's husband, [ ] Fairweather. Copy of a letter from E. Guss Porter to a person unknown indicating that he was working on Rogers' behalf to have the Holgate Report discounted; attached are letters of support for Rogers from C.B. Smith, J. Kerry, and James Kendry. The current Minister of Railways and Canals is Frank Cochrane and there is some feeling that he is prepared to listen to Rogers' side of the story. Some business correspondence under the letterhead of Dennon and Rogers, Engineers and Contractors.

1913: Drafts of letters written by Rogers regarding the work on the Trent Canal and also drafts of letters wondering how to proceed with the Minister, Cochrane, in order to get his case heard.

1914: Rogers started the year by writing once again to E. Guss Porter, M.P., saying: "I hope you will be able to get Cochrane to act and appoint someone to consider my reply to Holgate's report. It's a damn shame one can't get even fair play from his own party....". Correspondence from Charles H. Keefer who arranged to undertake a review of the Holgate Report; correspondence between Keefer and Rogers; printed copies of the Keefer Report; correspondence between Porter and Cochrane. Cochrane reminded Porter that Rogers had promised to pay for the Keefer review. Copy of an article by Ryerson Ritchie entitled "A Wrong Righted" and reviewing the vindication of Richard Rogers by the Keefer Report.

1915: Many letters of congratulation on Rogers' vindication by the report of Charles Keefer. Rogers' two sons are serving with the Canadian Expeditionary Forces in Europe. Correspondence with Hon. Frank Cochrane, Minister of Railways and Canals, regarding Rogers' payment for the services of Keefer. Other correspondents include Ryerson Ritchie, McGill University Library, A.L. Mudge, William Dennon, Guss Porter, F.C. Gamble (President of the Canadian Society of Civil Engineers), Edwin Rogers, and Rogers' son, George, who is working in Frankford, Ont. Draft of a letter indicating that Rogers is not resigned to his situation and wants recompense. Typescript of an article by Ryerson Ritchie March 19 1915 entitled "A Wrong Righted." Letter of April 3, 1915, Rogers to Cochrane, which accompanied his cheque in the amount of $1150 to pay for the Keefer investigation and remonstrating with Cochrane about having to pay for his vindication. Beginning of May, Heber Rogers has been reported missing and presumed dead [it turned out later that Heber was a prisoner of war]. Brochure commemorating the life of Alan Rogers, only son of Edwin Rogers and brother of Bessie and Rita, killed at the Dardanelles, August 8, 1915.

1916: Correspondents are William Dennon, Northumberland Paper Company, The Hoover Suction Sweeper Company of Canada, The Battlecreek Sanitarium Michigan, business correspondents of Dennon and Rogers, J.C. Shook, Edwin Rogers, Dominion Bridge Company. Rogers has purchased Beechwood Farm containing 100 acres. Rogers' son, Harry, had been reported missing in action, but by August it seems that he is in a prisoner of war camp. Several letters concerning Rogers' outstanding bank loans.

1917: Correspondence between Rogers and Salvation Army Children's Receiving Home requesting a boy for farm work. Apparently Rogers still owes A.P. Pousette $5000 which was to be paid on the completion of Section 2 of the Trent Valley Canal. Correspondents include Ryerson Ritchie. His brother, Edwin Rogers, has died April 20. Letter from Emily Rogers, widow of Edwin, to her brother-in-law, Richard. Mina is ill in hospital. Many letters from W.B. Dennon of Dennon and Rogers, Engineers and Contractors. Letter from J. Sexmith to Dr. Read, Minister of Railways and Canals, asking that Rogers be reimbursed for the $1150 he had to pay for the Keefer review.

1918: Business correspondence from W. Dennon of Dennon and Rogers, Engineers and Contractors. Rogers still owes Pousette money and wrote to him on April 11 saying that the settlement can not be made until the government settles their contract claims. Copy of a letter to Richard Rogers from his son, Harry, who is in a German prison camp, Feb. 1 1918. Letter from Ryerson Ritchie saying in part: "The P.S. of your letter was a stunner. I did not even know that Herbert Boyd was off on a furlow. That surely is as near a knock-out blow as Will can have. I hope he will get over it as bravely as he got over the loss of his other son last summer... The news from Harry and Heber is encouraging anyway even if they do look thin and sad."

1919: One letter from W.B. Dennon from Mobile, Alabama.

1920: Two miscellaneous items.

1921: One letter from lawyer R. Pringle re: claim against Department of Railways and Canals by Dennon and Rogers.

1922: Two miscellaneous items.

1923: Several items, one from lawyer George Henderson re Dennon and Rogers claim.

1924: Business correspondence re Dennon and Rogers claim. Rogers' reply in Exchequer Court of Canada. William B. Dennon (Sr.) died in 1924. He has a son, also named W.B. Dennon who worked with Dennon in Canada and is now handling his business affairs. Dennon's obituary reads as: "Dennon, William, age 81 years beloved husband of the late Anna Dennon and father of Clifton G. and William B., at Mobile, Ala. ... " [information regarding the death of W.B. Dennon supplied courtesy of Gordon Young, Lakefield Heritage].

1925: Legal correspondence re claim of Dennon and Rogers. Correspondence from W.B. Dennon from Mobile, Alabama (It appears that Dennon has a new company in Mobile called Dennon Paper Mills). Several letters between the lawyer George Henderson and Dennon who is coming from Mobile to Peterborough to testify.

1926: Legal correspondence re claim of Dennon and Rogers. By October 9 it seems as though the claim has been settled in favour of Rogers and Dennon to the amount of approximately $8000 net.

1927: April 27 letter from lawyer G.N. Gordon commiserating with Rogers on his serious illness. Scribbled draft of a telegram May 2 from Heber Rogers to Dennon in Mobile, Alabama saying that his mother had died suddenly and that his father wanted to see him immediately. Letter from an old friend, Willis Chipman, who attended McGill at the same time as Rogers, asking him if he could recollect the row that the students had with the faculty in 1876.

1963: Three miscellaneous items.

Undated: Correspondence includes letters from William Thornton Cust Boyd; descriptions of houseboat "Lotus" and yacht "Victoria"; note from Doctor re Rogers' daughter's health; estimates, labour costs re Simcoe-Balsam Lake Divison, Section No. 1, Trent Canal; rough notes re Trent Canal; William Dennon; Ryerson Ritchie; notes on a hydraulic lock; biographical notes on Holgate; specifications for an all-steel bridge superstructure to be erected over the River Trent in the Township of Seymour; statement of the cost of lands purchased by the government for the right-of-way for the Trent Canal for Sections No. 1 and 2 Simcoe-Balsam Lake, Peterborough-Lakefield; list of lakes located in the Trent basin; Rogers' rough notes re locks; notes and correspondence re the Dennon Rogers claim against the Dominion Government.

**Added to Box 16 in the year 2015:** One box of approximately 216 aperture cards, donated to Trent University Archives by Archives of Ontario via Carrie Limkilde. In 1981, the Archives of Ontario received these cards from Mrs. Seabourne Geale and Mr. Jack Rogers, the same people who donated the Geale-Rogers fonds to Trent University Archives. It is believed that the cards generally duplicate the photographs in the albums located in Box 16 (82-022).
