COLES NOTE

STANDARDS

One of the most difficult things that your Association does is the updating and rewording of our camp standards that are used as a guide for all of us and for the O.C.A. visitations.

For the past two years now the Standards Committee, under the leadership of Barb Gilbert, has been working to try and reword some of the existing standards to make them a little more clear and, as well, to bring in a few new standards which were felt by the committee to be needed. Some of the explanations were out of date or incomplete and thus the committee has worked hard to try and bring these standards more in line with the changes over the next few years.

In the next few weeks everyone will be receiving a "DRAFT PROPOSAL" from the Standards Committee. It will be distributed to every member of our Association so that everyone, should they wish, will have input into the changes. The following steps will be followed so that everyone will have a full opportunity for input and discussion before any final ratification.

1. Every member shall receive a draft copy of the entire proposal.

2. The draft copies will be accompanied by a comment sheet. Should you have any suggestions after reading the proposed standards, these sheets would have to be filled in and returned to the committee by September 1, 1989. This will allow the committee ample opportunity to review your comments and to make any appropriate changes.
3. All camps who are going to be visited this summer will complete answer sheets for both booklets... that is, one for the present standards and one for the proposed new standards. In this way the committee will be able to compare and make any changes that are felt to be necessary.
4. In the fall, the Standards Committee will make a final presentation to the Board for their consideration.
5. Should the Board accept the final recommendation,
 - (a) every member would receive a copy of the final recommendation, and
 - (b) the Board would establish a process for a ratification vote by the end of December.

Any changes that you find in the Introduction to the proposed standards have been changed according to our new Constitution.

Please remember the prime importance of Standards Visits is to allow for a sharing of ideas, discussions of common concerns and an opportunity for each camp director to assess his or her own program and practices.

The Standards Committee in the thinking through of its proposals has taken into account that every situation is unique and different and that what may be right for one camp is wrong for another, so that a "no" answer to a standard does not mean that anyone has failed or that you do not belong. There are lots of reasonable explanations to "no" answers.

The Standards Committee looks forward to everyone's input by September 1. Please read the proposals carefully and help make all O.C.A. camps safer, healthier and a little bit better for all of us.

President

LET'S INTEGRATE TOGETHER!

DISCOVER YOUR POTENTIAL
Prepared by: A.C. Grossman
Submitted by: Cathy Smart,
Integration Chairperson

Camp Brebeuf is one of the few residential camps where the goal for its disabled campers is total integration. Even there, the one-to-one program, where one counsellor is assigned to one special needs child, is relatively new. In previous years, approximately 150 campers were present during one session of camp out of which only one child was disabled. However, during 1988 there were six special needs children per camp session. Consequently, the one-to-one program was born and was proven successful.

Why integration?

What are the benefits of sending a disabled child to an integrated camp, such as Camp Brebeuf, versus a segregated camp? The parents of the one-to-one campers were all positive that integration was the key to an enjoyable learning experience for their children. Many parents openly put down segregation, stating that they believed their children should learn to deal with the disabled.

Since children learn best from their peers, it is hoped that when integrating a disabled child with other children of the same age group, he or she will learn appropriate behaviour from them.

In order to function successfully in the community, one must have a method of communication that is easily understood by others. Often, disabled children with communication problems rely on their parents or teachers to translate what they are saying to others. At Camp Brebeuf, away from everyone who knows them, these children are forced to make themselves understood without the help of a translator. Thus, they become more independent and gain the self-confidence and social skills needed for dealing with the outside world.

However, the benefits of integration at Camp Brebeuf were not meant to be only for the disabled children. It was a goal of the camp to educate all campers about the disabled in the community. Through living with a special needs child for one camp session, the other campers learned to be more sensitive to the problems of the disabled. They learned how to treat their disabled peers and most importantly, they realized the wide range of abilities that any disabled person does have.

BETWEEN THE COVERS

The Omnibus of Fun would be a welcome sight to any adult or youth leader in a recreational setting. Whether they work in camps, churches, groups, troops, or agency building programs, this book has it all. There are activities specifically designed for particular ages, for many types and sizes of groups, and for many different occasions.

PART I, Planning for Fun

Chapter I - How to Organize Plans
Chapter II - Planning Parties
Chapter III - Planning Banquets; Mealtime Fun

PART II, Materials for Fun

Chapter IV - Group Starters
Chapter V - Humour
Chapter VI - Mixers
Chapter VII - Quiet Games
Chapter VIII - Equipment and Skills Games

A detailed index provides swift access to the many types of material a recreation leader may need, and the descriptions of activities includes the necessary information.

THE STANDARDS WORKSHOP

DATE: April 25, 1989

TIME: 7:30 P.M. - 10:00 P.M.

PLACE: Metropolitan Toronto School Board Office, 45 York Mills Road (just east of Yonge St.).

Shortly the camps being visited this summer and their visitors will receive personal invitations to attend this most important workshop. We will be discussing the visitation process, clarifying the present standards, and talking about the proposed standards changes developed by the Standards Committee over the past two years.

We feel that every member of the Ontario Camping Association can benefit from attending this workshop. If you do not receive an invitation in the mail, please consider this a formal request to have you attend.

See you there!

STANDARDS COMMITTEE

NURSES' WORKSHOP

In Tune with Health and Safety

The Camp Nurses' Committee has been busy planning the 9th O.C.A. Workshop for Health Care Staff. It will be held May 27 at noon until May 28 at noon -- this format worked well last year. The setting is at the Bolton Conference Centre.

All health care staff are welcome, especially those new to camping.

There will be information about AIDS, the role of the nurse, the record system, manuals, and much more.

Directors! If money is a problem, the nurse might pay part or even all of the registration. Just let him/her know.

Additional registration forms are available at the O.C.A. Office.

CANADIAN CAMPING ASSOCIATION

Foreign Camp Counsellor Program List

With the storm clouds gathering fast on the Immigration/Health front for Foreign Camp Counsellors, it is very important for us to know which camps presently use counsellors from outside Canada (or intend to use foreign staff in the near future) so that we can get in touch quickly by phone, fax, letter, etc. as things either improve or deteriorate! We need to know by return mail: the name of your camp, the name of the person we should contact, the address and phone numbers for calls, fax and mail, approximate number of foreign staff used. Laughter is the sun that drives winter from the human face -- Victor Hugo

FEBRUARY 1989

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

What a sincere pleasure it is for me to introduce you to your new O.C.A. President, Ted Cole, Director of Camp Walden.

Ted brings a wealth of knowledge to this Association. For four years, he has served as an O.C.A. Vice President. Ted has been the Chairman of the Private Independent Camp Committee of the O.C.A., and for the last seven years, has volunteered his time and talents as the Chair of our Legislation Committee (a Task Force position with the Association).

Many of Ted's contributions and accomplishments for O.C.A. have been of a quiet nature. His presence on a Fire Marshall's Investigation Committee, his work on the Retail Sales Tax as it affects camps, his donation of Lottery winnings back to the O.C.A., and his professional approach to the issues and concerns of this Association are but a few of the credentials he brings. We are lucky to have Ted's strong leadership as we face the final phase of our Organizational Review - the implementation of our new Board Structure.

And guess what! He plays guitar and leads singing too!

What an honour it will be to serve as your Past President, Ted. We all look forward to reading your Cole's Notes on Camping.

PUBLIC POOLS

Regulation to Amend Ontario Regulation 381/84 Made Under the Health Protection and Promotion Act 1983 (Public Pools)

I am bringing to your attention that there have been revisions to the regulations governing public pools. The new regulation became law on January 1, 1989 and is called O. Reg. 569/88.

A letter from D.J. Porter, Senior Consultant, Public Health Service, has been received and covers the following points:

"The Regulation revokes the construction requirements for public pools set out in Part II of the Public Pools Regulation (O. Reg. 381/84). These requirements are being incorporated into the Ontario Building Code and are to be administered by the Ministry of Housing...

"While at first glance there may appear to be amendments to Part I of O.Reg. 381/84, these are only minor transpositions and adjustments caused by the split between construction and operational components of the current Regulation. The operational requirements remain the same and continue to be administered by the Ministry of Health and applied by the 43 local official health agencies serving throughout Ontario. Arrangements have been made to have copies of the amended public pools requirements reprinted."

Any questions concerning operational and safety requirements of public pools under the amended regulation can be directed to:

MORE SALES TAX INFO

Our December Newsletter article on Sales Tax requires this little addendum concerning a camper's length of stay. We hope this, in conjunction with the December information, clarifies the issue:

For a camper who stays less than a month, the Retail Sales Tax is 5% of 60% of the total charge (that is, 3% of the total fee). For a camper who stays a month or more, the Retail Sales Tax payable is 7% of meals only, if meals are listed separately on the bill. Otherwise, the tax is 5% of 60% of the total charge (that is, 3% of the total fee).

ADMISSION OF FOREIGN CAMP COUNSELLORS - 1989

Final negotiations with Health and Welfare Canada have confirmed that the medical requirement for the admission of foreign camp counsellors for 1989 will be more stringent than in the past.

The Ministry maintains that a number of camps did not comply with the terms of the more relaxed protocol of 1988 and 1987 and therefore the requirement will be stricter for this summer.

The full protocol will be sent to all Camps as soon as a letter of confirmation is received from Ottawa.

Meanwhile all Camps should be advised that they should begin to hire any foreign staff immediately as the process for 1989 will take from three to six weeks for each foreign staff member.

LET'S INTEGRATE TOGETHER!

A couple of years ago a number of interested O.C.A. members who work with Special Needs populations decided to form an Integration Committee.

The primary focus of the committee was to support and encourage the concept of integration within already established camp settings. In addition, the committee was to act as a resource for those who were interested in integration, but were not too sure how to go about it.

The Integration Committee is currently recognized as a sub-committee of the Education Committee. Cathy Smart sits on the Education Committee acting as the Integration representative.

Because the whole idea of integration is still relatively foreign to many Camp Directors and owners, on-going articles will be printed in every future newsletter. The purpose of LET'S INTEGRATE TOGETHER is primarily to act as a source of information for already established camps regarding the world of disabled individuals.

Be sure to look for LET'S INTEGRATE TOGETHER in up-coming issues!

SOME UNFITTING REMARKS ABOUT PARC

Did you know that the percentage of Canadian youth reaching recommended fitness levels drops dramatically from a 96% level at age 13 to 40% by the end of adolescence? Did you know that the current physical condition of teenage girls is inferior to that of boys? Or did you know that only 6% of youth ages 10-19 are active regularly and vigorously enough to obtain lasting benefits?

That's only three of many reasons why PARC was implemented a year ago. PARC - a joint CCA/Fitness Canada project - is taking an active leadership role in increasing both the quantity and quality of physical activity in Canadian camps. Why? Because children who engage in vigorous physical activity become more active adults - encouraging and reinforcing a life-time of health benefits and "...become more active in their free time and during summer vacations. They are happier and become more confident individuals" (CAPHER).

Last spring PARC mailed OCA member camps: 1) "Survey Highlights" of physical activity at Canadian camps, 2) Four colour posters, 3) Two "HOW-TO" booklets. In a few months two more of these booklets should be released and on the way to OCA members. I invite you, and your camp, to share your ideas and past successes regarding physical activity programs or innovations. What are your needs and expectations from PARC? What kinds of resources would be valuable to you? If PARC workshops were offered, from what kind of content would you and your staff benefit the most?

Last fall, on Oct. 21, the PARC Advisory Committee convened for three days within the cozy confines of the Family Services' Bolton Conference Centre, representing all regions of the country and most provinces. Current objectives and priorities were evaluated and an updated action plan resulted. I invite you to participate and share in this worthwhile project. PARC needs YOUR input and feedback. The Society of Camp Directors Celebrates Twenty Years of Leadership

On April 6, 1989, the Society of Camp Directors will be celebrating its twentieth anniversary with a gala dinner at the Rosedale Golf Club. All present members will of course receive invitations but we are also interested in contacting any former members to ask them to attend the dinner. If you were a member of the Society in those twenty years and are no longer a member, please contact Patti Thom at Camp Tanamakoon, 24 Alderbrook Dr., Don Mills, Ont. M3B 1E5; tel. (416) 444-5144. She will then give you information on the evening celebration.

BETWEEN THE COVERS

Bring summer camp right into your home. The new I Love Camp with Tom and Mark tape cassette is refreshingly entertaining. Camp sing-along songs, overly enthusiastic campers known as the Keeners and plenty of jokes are heard that certainly capture the camp spirit.

This cassette is full of everything from the Camp Cariboo television show hosted by Tom and Mark. Like the show, the tape is geared for children but any of us that have had a summer camp experience will find that many memories flood back to mind.

Consider this new resource as a way of extending the camp season and feeling as though the fun never ends.

CELEBRATION 100

FEATURE SPEAKERS AND WORKSHOP LEADERS

FATHER PAUL BÉLANGER - Founder, former Director and present Chairmen of Camp Ecole Keno, Quebec.

Father Bélanger, for many years, has provided leadership to the Canadian and Quebec Camping Associations. He will share his extensive experience in camping, education and the church as he addresses the subject, Christian Values and Camping.

BILLY B. BENNAN

Camps come alive with Billy B., the National Science Song and Dance Man. His repertoire swings from the zany educational "Romp in the Swamp" and the goofily romantic "Counsellors in Love" to the outright ridiculous. Picture Bambi, one fed-up fawn, striding mightily into encroaching civilization as, you guessed it.....Bambo!

SKIP CONNETT - owner-director Canadian Adventure Camp, Ontario

As Treasurer of the Canadian Camping Association, Skip has worked diligently to create a national insurance plan for camps. His dream became a reality in May 1988. Learn why so many camps have already joined this plan which is available to all CCA camps.

JIM FLACK - Senior Consultant, Synergy Inc.

Jim has presented a successful weekend workshop for the Ontario Camping Association. At this conference, he will share with us his expertise on workshop design.

BILL GOODWIN - Senior Consultant, Applied Training Principles Inc.

Bill has extensive administrative and consulting experience in both the private and public sector. His background provides him with the skills and insight to be an effective resource with respect to organizational needs and training service.

MARTIN HUNT - Outdoor Educator, Sheldon Centre, Shelbourne, Ontario.

Martin's camping experience includes directing Sparrow Lake United Church Camp and co-ordinating the Ontario-Belgium Counsellor Exchange. His humorous, lively and sensitive sessions have delighted and inspired camping audiences in Ontario and at the International Camping Congress in Washington.

NORMAN KUNC - M.Sc. & JUDY MCGILL - Recreation Therapist.

Norman is a powerful speaker, but more importantly, he is an inspiration. Born with cerebral palsy, Norman attended a segregated school for physically handicapped children until, at age 13, he was integrated into a regular school. Norman and Judy are well qualified to present the topic, Integration of Special Needs Campers.

YVES LEGAULT - Teacher, former Camp Director and volunteer with the Quebec Camping Association.

Yves has recently written a book on Staff Training, the subject of his presentation at this conference.

P.A.R.C. - Physical Activity Resource Centre and Participation.

A PARC representative will be introducing a new fitness programme designed for camps.

TOM PURDY - Ontario "Project Wild" Facilitator, employee of Canadian Wildlife Federation.

Tom's all day workshop will provide us with resources and ideas for new and interesting nature activities at camp.

DR. ROBIN ROSE - Human Resources Consultant and Lecturer in Counselling Psychology, Providence, Rhode Island.

Dr. Rose has presented numerous valuable workshops and speeches at American Camping Association National Conventions and YMCA Camping Conferences.

SANDY QUEEN - Director of Lifeworks which promotes the concept of "Wellness" to school, business and volunteer groups.

Sandy's humorous, vivacious presentations have educated and amused a variety of audiences including YMCA groups and Camping Conference delegates.

CÉLÉBRATION 100

VOICI LES CONFÉRENCIERS ET ANIMATEURS D'ATELIERS INVITÉS

LE PÈRE PAUL BÉLANGER - fondateur, ancien directeur et président du conseil actuel du Camp Ecole Keno.

Le Révérend Père Bélanger a fourni pendant plusieurs années son leadership à l'A.C.C. et à l'A.C.Q. Il vous fera profiter de sa vaste expérience de la vie de camp, de l'éducation et de l'église dans un allocution qui portera sur les valeurs du christianisme dans les camps.

BILLY B. BRENNAN

Les camps s'animent au contact de ce troubadour, danseur des sciences naturelles. Son répertoire va de la chanson éducative "bouffonne" Romp in the Swamp, à la chanson romantique un peu "maboule" Consellers in Love, en passant par celle qui frise le ridicule, quand Bambi le faon, en a ras le bol et décide de prendre la civilisation d'assaut puis devient... Bambo!

SKIP CONNETT - propriétaire et directeur de Canadian Adventure Camp et trésorier de l'A.C.C.

En sa capacité de trésorier de l'A.C.C., Skip a été en mesure de négocier un programme d'assurance responsabilité pour les camps membres, à un coût raisonnable. Vous en apprendrez davantage au sujet de ce nouveau programme offert par l'entremise de l'A.C.C.

JIM FLACK - Conseiller principal de Synergie Inc.

Lors de cette conférence, il partagera avec nous son expérience sur la façon de bien structurer un atelier. Jim a animé avec brio un atelier une fin de semaine pour l'Association des camps de l'Ontario.

BILL GOODWIN - conseiller principal de Applied Training Principles Inc.

Bill compte énormément d'expérience comme conseiller et administrateur, tant dans le secteur privé que public. Sa compétence et sa perspicacité en font une précieuse ressource pour ce qui est des besoins organisationnels et services de formation.

MARTIN HUNT - éducateur de loisirs en plein air au Sheldon Centre, Shelbourne, Ont.

Il a acquis de l'expérience comme directeur au Sparrow Lane United Church Camps et comme coordinteur du Ontario Belgium Counsellor Exchange. Par son humour, sa vivacité et sa sensibilité, il a enchanté et inspiré son auditoire lors de séances à des conférences en Ontario et au Congrès international des camps à Washington.

NORMAN KUNC, M.Sc. & JUDY MCGILL - thérapeute en loisirs.

Norman est un orateur convaincant et se veut avant tout une source d'inspiration. Il est né avec la paralysie cérébrale. Il a fréquenté une école spéciale pour handicapés physiques puis à l'âge de 13 ans a poursuivi ses études dans une école ordinaire. Judy fera un exposé en compagnie de Norman Kunc sur l'intégration des campeurs en difficulté.

YVES LEGAULT - professeur, ancien directeur de camp et bénévole pour l'Association des camps du Québec.

Yves a écrit un livre dernièrement sur la formation du personnel et il nous entretiendra sur ce dernier aspect.

P.A.R.C. - le Centre de ressources de l'activité physique.

De concert avec Participation présentera un nouveau programme de forme physique aux camps.

TOM PURDY - personne ressource de "Ontario Project Wild" et membre du personnel de Wildlife Federation.

Il présentera un atelier d'une journée qui vous procurera des idées pour organiser de nouvelles activités des plus intéressantes dans la nature.

DR. ROBIN ROSE - consultant en ressources humaines et lecteur en psychologie au Brown University, Providence, Rhode Island.

Le Dr. Rose a été invité à prendre la parole et à mener nombre d'ateliers instructifs lors de convention organisées par l'American Camping Association et de conférences des camps présentées par le Y.M.C.A.

SANDY QUEEN - directrice de Lifewordsk, dont le but est de promouvoir le concept du "bien-être" auprès des groupes scolaires, des gens d'affaires et des organismes de bénévoles.

Sandy a été invitée à prendre la parole devant plusieurs groupes du Y.W.C.A. et délégués aux conférences des camps.
